CANCER CURED
—AND A—
LIFE SAVED
By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

GODFREY'S COVE.

[Near York Harbor, Maine.]

These dawns that sink and swell across the land,
Soft fields suffused with yellow mistiness—
These pastures growing greener to the strand,
The willows with their whispered cadences,
The rocky sculpture of the waves and skies,
The clear cool waters prisoned peacefully,
Are prophets all of what behind them lies—
The infinitely changeful, changeless sea.

O soul, thy multitudinous happenings—
The trivial events of nights and days,
The griefs that darken and the hopes that shine,
The pleasant places and the stormy ways,
Are hints and heralds of eternal things,
Inflowings from the tide of the divine!

WEDDED TO GOLF.

John McLennan had lain for many months on a bed of sickness. All summer he had been deprived of his walks into the green fields and up the banks of the Tay, but as the summer died and autumn reigned supreme he was sensible of a change for the better.

Now, let it be known that John was a crack golfer, and as he lay racked with pain his mind often wandered up the Inch, and he would count his imaginary strokes as he wended his way from hole to hole.

Early in August he had recovered so far as to be able to take a turn round the doors, but he soon got tired and was glad to return to his armchair by the fireside.

It was, therefore, a surprise—in more ways than one—to his gude wife when, one Sunday morning toward the end of August, he rose between 5 and 6 o'clock and said he was going a round of the golf course.

"John McLennan," said his astonished wife, "are ye mad? D'ye ken this is the Lord's day? An you an elder o' the kirk!"

"Nance," said John quietly, as he got his sticks ready, "I'm weel aware o' what day this is, an I ken I'm an elder o' the kirk, but, wumman, I'm deein for a game, an we may never hae anither mornin like this. Besides, surely it'll no' be coontit a sin to play a bit hole or twa sae early in the mornin, when very few, if ony, folk'll be aboot!"

Mrs. McLennan said no more, and John awoke Bobbie, his eldest son, whose usual job was to carry the clubs. He was his father's only "caddie."

"Come awa, laddie. Oh, ye needna look that way. Yer faither's neither daft nor bad. Sae come awa."

And out they went. They reached the teeing ground as 6 o'clock chimed on St. John's.

"Noo, Bobbie, mak' a fine tee; no' owre high, ye ken. That's fine. Keep yer e'en on the ba', in case I dinna see'd. Nae flags the day, ye ken—Sabbath. Wheest!"

Whack.

"There ye are. No' a bad drive for ma an newly aff a sickbed."

"Faither," said Bobbie as he looked timidly around, "what'll ye dae if ye meet onybody?"

"Juist draw my bonnet doon like that. Wid ye ken yer ain faither noo if ye met him?"

And Bobbie acknowledged that he wouldn't.

"Very weel. Dinna speak ony mair aboot meetin folk. But here we are. Gie's my cleek."

Crack!

"Ye're on the green, faither, in twa," said Bobbie proudly. "Ye'll dae that hole in three."

"I'll try, laddie; I'll try," said John, "but I doot I'm owre shaky. Hooever, gie's my putter. Steady! In! Mark that doon. Hiv ye a pencil an paper? That's richt. First hole in three." And John McLennan mopped his forehead with his handkerchief, for beads of sweat found a habitation on his bald pate.

"Anither tee, Bobbie. That's fine. Noo the hole's aye up aside the big tree, I suppose?"

"Aye," says Bobbie as he strains his eyes in the direction indicated.

"Weel, look oot an see whaur I licht."

Whack!

"Nae sae gude's my first ane, but they canna a' be gude, eh, laddie?"

But Bobbie did not answer as he handed his father his cleek on coming up to the ball.

Crack!

But it was a bad shot, and John played again.

"It's on the green, faither," said Bobbie.

"Aye, laddie," replied his father, "but in three. I'll need four for this hole."

"It's no' here, faither," Bobbie said as he looked all over the green.

"Aye, it's here," replied the old man as he lifted it out of the hole. "That's a fluke, but, a' the same time, I'm in in three. Mark that doon, second hole in three."

"Anither tee. The hole's richt across at the road. Noo, I must gie this ane an awfu' crack."

Whack!

"By, faither, ye're near the green. D'ye think ye'll dae this ane in twa?" Bobbie ventured.

"Na, na, laddie, I'll need mair than that. Hooever, we'll see."

And so the two trudged on.

"Faither, here's a ba,' an it's no' your ane."

"Put it in yer pouch an say naething. But here we are. See a grip o' my iron; I maun lift this ane richt on to the green," and he did. "My putter, noo. Bah, owre hard! Aye, that's four, ye see, an it wis my best drive too! Put that doon, third hole in four. Noo, it's even owre to the Tay an across the burn. There's some ane comin alang the walk on ane o' thae bicycles. Lat's get awa quick." Whack! "Come on, noo, for I think after I play up to the tap o' the peninsula I'll send ye hame wi' the sticks, an take a canny walk doon. Stand up on the road an see if I gang into the burn. Watch yer heid." Crack!

"Ye're owre, faither, an at the hole," cried Bobbie. "Ye're sure to dae this ane in three. Come across by the brig. Ye're lyin fine."

"There ye are, then, laddie, there. Put that doon; fourth hole in three. Noo, back owre the burn to yon hole at the tap o' the Inch." Whack! "D'ye see, Bobbie?"

"Aye, faither, ye're up near the road," and Bobbie ran to see exactly where the ball lay.

"This is a tricky hole; ye see there's a brae to coont wi'. Stand there on the road an see whaur I gang; that's twa."

"No' bard enough, faither," said Bobbie as his father came up, "but I've seen ye put in a waur ane than that."

"Weel, we'll try; another inch wid hae din't. That's four again. Fifth hole in four. Doon wi'd! Noo, here's the burn again, an see that I dinna gang into the burn or the Tay. But there's that bicycle chap again."

"Faither, faither, it's Mester Moir, oor helper, oor kirk helper," Bobbie said excitedly.

"Wheest, ye dee—, ye dear laddie; he'll hear ye." And, whack! away went the ball again.

"Into the bunker, faither. What a peety!" said Bobby, but his father was silent. He was wondering if Mr. Moir had seen him. His iron took him out of the bunker and landed him on the green in two, and he got the hole in three.

"Is that three, faither?" asked Bobbie.

"Aye," said his father.

"Are ye turnin no' weel again, faither?" Bobbie asked, surprised at the change in his manner.

"No, no; I'm weel enough, only angry at no' dasing that hole in twa. Never mind. Richt up to the tap noo."

Whack!

"A gude shot, but it's in the whins. Look, Bobbie, lyin on the tap like a bird's nest. There ye are, juist at the hole; wid ye! That's richt—in in three. Put that doon—seventh hole in three. Weel, I feel tired, so we'll hae a bit rest. Coont up hoo mony I've ta'en for the seven holes—3, 6, 10, 13, 17, 20, 23. Twenty-three! Losh! I never did that afore. Noo gang ye awa home an see an hurry. Dinna stop to speak to onybody on the road, an I'll come canny doon. Twenty-three! It's awfu' gude."

Four Sundays later John McLennan stood at the church plate. No one had ever referred to the game he had a month previous, and he was glad of it. Mr. Moir preached that day, and his text was, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

As the preached progressed John grew more and more convinced that the sermon had been specially prepared for him, and at the close of the service he entered the vestry and asked the half unrobed minister, "Did ye see me yon mornin?"

"I did," replied the minister.

"Weel, an I saw you across yon iron cuddy, sae nane o's had better mention sic maitters again."

"We won't," replied the minister as he donned his coat and made for the door. And they didn't.—People's Friend.

Huxley's Awkward Question.

An old journalist tells a reporting incident of his young days. "I was sent," he says, "to a meeting held in the Lesser Queen Street hall, Edinburgh, to report a meeting in connection with some kind of young men's improvement society, at which the late Lord Moncrieff was expected to speak. I cannot exactly fix the date, but as I was then engaged on the now defunct Caledonian Mercury, it must have been over 30 years ago. At that time the 'Darwinian theory' and the 'Vestiges of Creation' were creating much excitement in Edinburgh, as elsewhere, but, except to a select few, it was not known that the late Dr. Robert Chambers was the author of the latter work. Lord (then Mr.) Moncrieff 'took occasion' to refer to the controversy, and created roars of laughter by his ridicule of Darwinism.

"When he concluded, a gentleman sitting at the back of the hall, among the 'common ruck' of the audience, rose and respectfully asked permission to put a question to the 'Darwinian critic.' There were cries of 'Name!' 'Come forward!' etc., but he modestly declined, remarking, in effect, that he only wished to ask the speaker if he had read Darwin's 'Origin of Species.' Mr. Moncrieff at once promptly replied that he had not, but that he had studied reviews of it, etc. 'I thought so,' quietly observed the stranger, who moved toward the door, amid jeers and cries of 'Name!' He turned upon the platform and its occupants and the howling young 'gentlemen' with a withering glare, and said, 'My name is of no consequence here, but as you demand it, it is Tom (he did not say Thomas) Huxley.'"—Leed's Mercury.

Millions of Petrified Fish.

For a score of years the geologists have known of the existence of immense beds of shale in Wyoming which occasionally yielded fine specimens of fossil fishes, but it is only recently that similar beds have been discovered in Colorado. These beds of petrified fish, containing millions upon millions of individual specimens, cover hundreds of square miles in the northwestern part of the Centennial State. They extend a distance of 100 miles in the direction of Green river and "shelve out" for 100 miles more toward the interior of the state. In some places these beds—almost a solid mass of perfectly fossilized fish—are from 150 to 200 feet in thickness. One of the greatest puzzles regarding the find is the fact that they lie about 8,000 feet above sea level.—St. Louis Republic.

Was Sure About His Mother.

Johnnie was about to repeat his first verse at the Sunday school concert. Of course it must be short and of simple words, so his mother selected this for him, "I am the light of the world," repeating it to him a number of times until he was sure of it. The evening of the concert came. The audience was in readiness. Johnnie came out, made his most approved bow and proclaimed in a loud voice, "My mother is the light of the world."—Congregationalist.

THE LIFE AND DUTIES OF A NEW YORK SCHOOLTEACHER.

Good Pay, Short Days and Lots of Vacation—Advantages Over Other Occupations—Male Teachers Have Wider Opportunities Than the Women.

Everything taken into consideration, there are few public offices in the city of New York which are more desirable than those within the public school system. From almost every point of view the life of a schoolteacher is a desirable one in this city. The pay is good, the promotion tolerably rapid, the work not onerous, and the hours are better than in almost any other field of labor. About 4,000 teachers are employed in the public school system of New York whose salaries range from $600 to $1,900 a year for women, and from $1,080 to $3,000 for men. But $3,000 is by no means the limit to the financial ambition of a New York schoolteacher. On the part of the men there are several greater prizes within their reach if they have the proper qualifications and can secure the right influence in the board of education. For instance, there is the office of assistant superintendent of public schools, of which there are ten, each drawing a salary of about $4,000 a year. Then there is the superintendent's office itself, with its handsome pay of $7,000, and it has been the goal toward which scores of educators in this and other cities are constantly keeping their eyes. Both the offices of assistant superintendent and superintendent are filled absolutely by the board of education. The assistant superintendent is elected for two years, and, as a matter of practice, has a life position. Then the male teachers can look forward to a promotion to the City college either as an instructor at a salary of $2,500, or a full fledged professor at $4,500.

There are few of the 53 male principals in New York's public schools, however, who do not get more than their salary of $3,000 a year. Almost every one of them gets some little additional pay, as $500 or $800 a year for extra service as an instructor in the evening schools or as clerks of the ward board of school trustees. Some of the principals hold both of these little plums and make a clear $4,000 a year out of the school system. The principals of boys' schools, of course, have their pick in these choice perquisites, but there are so many additional offices to be filled that under male teachers in the public schools come in for a good round share.

The four evening high schools alone give employment to 20 or 30 teachers, each of whom gets anywhere from $3 to $6 a night for the additional work. Then there are some 23 boards of school trustees, each of which has its clerk, who gets pay for the amount of work done, the average mounting up to $400 or $500 a year. Nearly all these clerks are principals of some schools.

In the case of women schoolteachers the chances for earning extras are very limited. The maximum salary she can get is $1,900. She starts into the system with a salary of about $600, which is gradually raised until she becomes the principal of a girl's department of a grammar school.

In order to become a schoolteacher in the public schools of New York it is first necessary to get a recommendation from a member of the board of education. This enables the candidate to try a preliminary examination, which, if he is successful, entitles him to be placed upon the eligible list of teachers. After satisfactory work in this capacity for not more than a year the candidate secures a permanent license as a teacher in New York's public schools, and as such is entitled to teach in any part of the city.

This does not mean necessarily that the teacher will immediately find employment. That depends entirely upon the local board of school trustees. The city is divided into 24 school districts, the schools in each of which are controlled by a school board, who are appointed by the board of education. The boards have the selection of all teachers below the grade of principal, these being appointed by the board of education. As a rule, however, the licensed teacher soon finds an opening and then is in the regular line of promotion.

What has made the school service so attractive to many are the easy hours. Nine-tenths of the salary earners in New York get to work at 8 a. m. and are lucky if they get away by 5 p. m., with half an hour for luncheon. The work of the teacher begins at 9 a. m. and is over, as a rule, by 3 p. m., with an hour for luncheon. Nine-tenths of the salary earners get only 2 weeks out of the 52 in the year for a vacation, and they work 6 days in the week at that. The schoolteachers get a vacation of 13 weeks in 52 and draw full pay during that time. Besides this they work only 5 days in the week and have all holidays. It has been estimated that the schoolteachers of New York work less than 200 of the 365 days in the year.

If a schoolteacher is to rise in the calling, however, the work does not end with school hours. Studies in pedagogy and advanced education must be kept up at home. The work is not so hard, however, or the pay so poor as to induce many to resign. In fact, it has become a saying in the system that "schoolteachers never die and never resign."—New York Tribune.

A Health Palmist.

Mrs. St. Kill is a woman who has made of palmistry something more than a means of amusing an idle crowd or frightening a credulous one. She has studied it with reference to its medical side and has proved the connection between brain and hand. The London hospitals, asylums for idiots and the blind—yes, even Hanwell—all have opened their doors to her. From wax impressions made of the hands of the inmates she has learned that each disease brings its own sign on the hand.—London Letter.

INDEX-TRIBUNE

SONOMA, FEBRUARY 8, 1896.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR.

THE time when Europe will not have a single possession in either North or South America is coming, and the sooner it comes the better it will be for all concerned.

Now that the College building is the property of the Valley it is the duty of every citizen to give his sympathetic support to the Trustees in their effort to build up the school and make it an ornament to to the valley, county and State.

DAVENPORT, the artist who did such very good work on the Examiner during the last Gubernatorial campaign, has been transferred to the Journal of New York, a paper recently purchased by Mr. Hearst. In this new field Mr. Davenport is doing as excellent work as ever.

EVERYBODY should subscribe for one of the magazines. They may be had for five cents to fifty cents a copy. The illustrations alone are worth the price. "McClure's Magazine" recently had a life of Napoleon most profusely illustrated. At present the magazine is publishing the life of Lincoln. The different portraits of our martyred President alone are worth the subscription price for a year.

THERE is not the least shadow of a doubt about the fact that there is a war in Cuba. The Spanish government has sent over about fifty thousand soldiers and is preparing to send more. The sooner the United States perceives this fact and recognizes the Cubans as belligerents, the better it will be for her. We have no right to stand idly by and see a people struggling for liberty without helping them as much as we possibly can. And if Cuba achieves her independence, as she probably will, it is but natural to suppose that she will feel very kindly towards the nation first to recognize her. If Blaine were with us Cuba would be a free State to-day.

MAYOR SUTRO of San Francisco has opened what are perhaps the finest public baths in the world. He is going to give the Heights to that city. He has fought and is still fighting Huntington. He has given one of the finest private libraries in the United States to the public. If more of California's rich could follow in the footsteps of this philanthropist there is no doubt but that the hard feeling between capital and labor would die. It is the infernal leeching the poor man is suffering that makes him so bitter. The average man likes to see men succeed, but when the material for that success is coming out of his own veins he begins to wonder if all is right. Sutro is a Hebrew, but he is teaching many Christians their religion.

THE 15th day of June 1846, marked a point in the history of this State and one that should be celebrated right here in Sonoma, for it was here and on the above date that the "Bear Flag" was first raised. If we are to celebrate, we should begin at once to prepare. We ought to have one of the finest anniversary days that this State has ever known, and we may have it if we will strive hard. Without doubt the Pioneers would gladly and willingly help, and the Native Sons and Daughters would embrace the opportunity to honor the day that made their organizations possible. Cannot some of the representative men of the community get together and arrange for a mass meeting in the near future? Time is precious. There will be a deal of corresponding to do, plans to devise and money to raise to carry the thing through, but we can do it if we try. Let us have a semi-centennial celebration.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

PRESERVE THE RELICS.

A Valuable Suggestion from Mr. Weed, Principal of the High School.

MR. EDITOR:

For some time I have considered the desirability of having in this community a museum of historic relics. This valley was settled in very early times and some of the most noted men in the history of the State and Nation have lived here. I feel certain that there are many relics of these scattered about the valley which, if gathered into one place, could be preserved instead of gradually disappearing, as they are by gift and loss. I realize that it is with considerable reluctance that we part from remembrances of the dead and great, but time is a potent factor with us all. The parents die and their possessions pass to their children. These marry and in turn bequeath or move to new regions. In this wise relics are rapidly parting from us.

Anything in the nature of curios would be acceptable—Indian trinkets, skeletons, guns, old deeds, Confederate money, etc. Such a museum should be located in Sonoma City, for here is the center of historic interest and the point most convenient to the valley. The immediate place to be selected for housing the collection is, to a certain extent, a matter of taste, but the High School building affords ample room for the present, and I have no doubt that the Trustees would willingly provide for the same.

The practical side of the proposition has been stated. It now remains to say something about its social aspect. The young would be educated in patriotism, and this is not a chimerical assertion. The sight of dead things can often move us more mightily than the highest oratory. It was once my privilege to see the bell that proclaimed the glad tidings of 1776. Among the company looking at it with me were persons of all conditions and ages. The young, the middle aged, and the old were moved, some to tears, all to reflection, over a cracked bell. Such a museum would be a source of much local pride. It would awaken an interest in local history. It would teach the young to reverence the old. It will do good in many ways. May we not have some expression of opinion from our citizens, the early settlers, everybody?

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and

Palpitation of the Heart.

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, self-control, vigorous health, and is the true remedy for all nervous troubles,

Pursued by a Demon.

How many suicides, think you, reader, have been committed by persons driven distraught and hunted to their doom by the demon of chronic ill health? Countless. For instance, we know, do we not, that hypochondriasis is a monomania—a sort of minor madness produced by chronic dyspepsia? Again, insomnia, or sleeplessness, often a result of the same cause, culminates in a derangement of the reasoning faculties. It is, therefore, of momentous consequence to prevent the arrival of disease at its chronic phase, when it daily and nightly scourges the sufferer to a dangerously uncertain goal. No medicine known to science as a means of arresting the maladies to which it is adopted, exists equal to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Among these complaints are chronic indigestion and insomnia, kidney and rheumatic ailments, constipation and liver trouble. Appetite is improved by the Bitters, the blood fertilized, and bodily substance and vigor increased by it.

NEW TO-DAY.

ECZEMA From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE CROPS AND WEATHER.

Signal Officer Hall's Report to the Weather Bureau.

Local U. S. Signal Officer Hall has just forwarded to the Weather Bureau at Washington his report on the weather and crops in Sonoma Valley for the month of January. The report says: "The highest and lowest temperature for the month of January has been 65 degrees and 34 degrees. We have had a heavy rainfall, which gives assurance of a bountiful harvest. While it has not rained all the time, this section has been blessed with 13.34 inches for January, making 19.86 inches for the season.

"Plowing has been delayed and some few acres have been flooded. Orchard and vineyard lands have been thoroughly soaked. Pruning is nearly finished. Feed and grain is doing well. Cattle and sheep now find nutritious feed on the mountain ranges. Fruit buds have begun to swell. Now with clear weather and sunshine farm work will progress rapidly and we can say for Sonoma Valley everything is looking cheerful and prosperous."

A Dangerous Insect.

A large tarantula was discovered in a bunch of bananas in the Central Market last Wednesday morning. Fortunately the poisonous insect was seen in time to prevent his stinging Mr. Hartin, who was handling the fruit. The sting of the tarantula has often proved fatal in this State. About twenty years ago a miner in Jimtown, Tuolumne county, disrobed and went to bed, leaving his boots lying on the floor. During the night a tarantula crawled into one of them. The next morning while putting on the boot his foot crunched the reptile, which retaliated by stinging him on the great toe. The foot swelled to immense proportions, and for a time it was thought he would die, but liberal potations of tarantula juice—and every old resident of Jimtown knows what Tuolumne whiskey was in those days—saved the man's life.

A Chinese Tramp.

A Chinese tramp made his appearance in this valley a few days ago and created quite a sensation as he was the first of his species ever seen or for that matter ever read about. He made his rounds from house to house in regular "hobo" fashion. He is evidently the pioneer tramp of his race. He speaks good English, and like his 'Melican prototype says that "the world owes him a living." The last seen of him he was heading toward Santa Rosa, that haven of rest for the weary "hobo." During the winter months at times the jail in that city contains as many as twenty-five or thirty of the tramp fraternity.

Installation.

The following officers of Sonoma Parlor, No. 111, N. S. G. W., were installed last Monday evening by F. F. Williamson of Freestone, District Deputy Grand President: Fred'k. T. Duhring, President; J. E. Poppe, First Vice President; John Gaffney, Second Vice President; L. H. Green, Third Vice President; Geo. Engler, Marshal; George Breitenbach, Secretary. The new officers of the Parlor are well-known professional and business men of Sonoma, all of whom are enthusiastic Native Sons.

Give Him His Commission.

It is rumored about town that Jas. B. Morris, the authorized agent for the old College building, which is to be purchased for a High School, is to be "bamboozled" out of his commission as the go-between in the sale of the property. We vigorously protest against this high-handed outrage. Jim worked hard to sell the building and we don't believe in throwing a man down when he has won his fight.

"Schocken'" Accident.

A fine draft horse belonging to City Trustee Schocken became entangled in a barbed-wire fence, near the quarries north of town, one day last week, and had one of his forefeet fearfully cut. The animal was found Saturday morning entangled in the fence, where he had been held as if in a vice for two or three days. It may be necessary to shoot the horse.

City Trustees Meeting.

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday evening, with City Dads Poppe, Bulotti, Schocken, Hartin and Clerk Breitenbach present. The minutes of the previous meeting having been disposed of the following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

A. E. Leech, repairs	$ 1.00
G. W. Long, labor	.50
Jno. Reyie, hauling gravel	33.50
Rebate to Firemen	12.00
Eugene Robin, salary one month	15.00
F. Breitenbach, salary three months	25.00
Wm. Green, lumber	16.08
Total	$103.03

The Street Committee was authorized to let out by contract the leveling and finishing of the sidewalk on the south side of Spain street north of the Plaza.

F. Clewe appeared before the Board in relation to the sidewalk in front of his dwelling on Napa street. He stated that it would be necessary in order to build such sidewalk, to erect a stone wall along the line of the creek and to do considerable filling in, and estimated the probable cost thereof would be about from three hundred to three hundred and fifty dollars. He asked the Board for some relief.

Wm. Trudgen was called upon to give his views on the matter. He stated that such a wall would be necessary and that its length would be 225 feet of an average height of eight feet; that it should be at least 2½ feet wide at the bottom built up from bed-rock. If laid in mortar the cost would be from $300 to $375.

Trustee Hartin proposed that the City of Sonoma should bear one-half of said expense, and Mr. Clewe the other half, to which Mr. Clewe demurred, as it would throw too much expense upon him and proposed in return, that, if the city would build up the stone wall, he would fill in the sidewalk.

Trustee Bulotti remarked that the Board should first have better information of the probable cost of such a stone wall and asked that the further consideration of this matter be laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

The Board concluded to let out by contract the erection of hitching posts on the north side of the Plaza, as soon as the sidewalk along said part of the Plaza is finished.

It was moved by Trustee Hartin and seconded by Trustee Bulotti, that the Marshal notify certain property owners that they are required by the Board to level off the sidewalks in front of their respective property and to put capping on the plank curbing as follows: First-street West, below Napa street; First-street East and Napa street, between First-street East and Second-street East. Carried and so ordered.

It was moved by Trustee Hartin and seconded by Trustee Bulotti that the Cemetery Committee be authorized to have the proposed new cemetery road, entering the Mountain Cemetery from the east, surveyed and staked off. Carried and so ordered.

The Board then adjourned.

The committee having the return leap year party in hand will engage the finest ball-room music in San Francisco. The young gentlemen composing the committe are the following: Jos. McMullen, Henry Bates, Frank Burris, Robt. Pasch and D. G. Atwood. The party will be an invitation affair and will be given at Union Hall on Friday evening, April 10th.

George Spanning has returned from a weeks' hunt in Spook canyon, Napa county. During his sojourn in that wild and wierd region the spooks did not appear, although more than once the hair on George's head was made to "stand on end like the quills of the fretful porcupine," by the howling of the coyotes which infest that region and make night hideous.

W. F. Wade & Co, manufacturers and dealers in portraits, picture frames, mirrors, mouldings, etc., 408 Kearney street, San Francisco, insert their adv in another column. Mr. Wade, the senior member of the firm is a well-known citizen of Sonoma, where he will continue to reside while conducting business in the metropolis. Those of our people who desire anything in his line should give his house the preference when visiting the metropolis. Orders sent to his Somoma address will receive prompt attention.

Whoever has a dime of 1894, coined by the San Francisco mint, has a coin for which $5 has already been offered, and when all the facts are known regarding its scarcity it is not unlikely that it will command a much higher premium. Inquiry at the mint elicited the information that during the fiscal year of 1894 only twenty-four dimes were coined at the San Francisco mint.

Many very fashionable people cling to the wearing of black and white. They do not do so under mourning pretense, but because they find it so very becoming to them. This is particularly the case with women a little inclined to embonpoint without being at all fat. Many have the large frame that suggests plumpness without being at all suggestive of too much adipose. These, once having taken on the black and white fever, as one woman calls it, find it hard to drop it.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, FEB. 8, 1896

An Illustrious Pupil.

It was in 1859, when he was embassador at St. Petersburg, that Prince Bismarck studied Russian. The suspicions ex-chancellor, who once declared that blotting paper was "an invention of the enemy," wished to dispense with interpreters. He engaged a young law student to give him lessons. M. Alexeleoff has lately furnished some particulars of his former pupil.

The pronunciation of certain syllables was a great difficulty, and Bismarck got out of temper more than once, but he finally mastered the language well enough for his purpose, and then disputed the remuneration which had been agreed upon.

Bismarck carefully kept his knowledge of Russian a secret from the court, with the result that he occasionally gleaned information not intended for him, but on one occasion the czar, who was talking in Russian to Prince Gortshakoff, noticed that the embassador was looking very fixedly at him, and at once guessed the truth. He asked Bismarck, point blank, if he understood Russian, and the "man of blood and iron" confessed, much annoyed at having been found out.—Pearson's Weekly.

How She Got the News.

Two Louisville women who are "great friends," as the phrase goes, from one cause or another had not met for several weeks, though living only a few squares apart. The other night one dame went down to visit the other one and said on entering the house:

"Margaret, I came down to visit you because I heard you were sick."

"Well," answered Margaret, who seemed a trifle out of sorts, "you took your time about it. I have been sick a week."

"Yes," Deborah replied, "but I could not come sooner because you took such a roundabout way of letting me know you were sick."

"Roundabout way? I don't remember sending you any word at all. How did you hear?"

"Well, you wrote the news to your daughter Alice in Milwaukee; she wrote to my daughter Mary in New Orleans; Mary mentioned it when she wrote to me—and that is how I happened to come over."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Artificial Scenting of Flowers.

Flowers that have lost something of their perfume are now scented artificially by watering them with an alcoholic solution of essence, using a little glycerin to fix the odor. Thus, for violets, the liquid is composed of 100 grams of glycerin and 10 grams of essence of violet. In many places, while scented violets are comparatively rare, the unscented kinds grow wild in great profusion. These are now bought up in large quantities, scented artificially and put into the market in advantageous competition with the perfumed violets grown by the horticulturists. Cut flowers which have wilted from time or transportation are revived by being plunged into a weak solution of sal ammoniac. Flowers which have little or no scent are also perfumed for sale by being put into a box with ice and then saturated with a current of carbonic acid charged with perfume.—London Public Opinion.

Muscular Christianity.

The Westminster Budget tells a characteristic story of the late Rev. Peter Mackenzie of London. Many years ago, after delivering a lecture in a village near Sunderland, he was returning to his host's house along a lonely road, when he was accosted by a robber. The latter was a believer in the right of might and requested Mr. Mackenzie to turn out all the cash he had got. "Well, my dear man," replied Mr. Mackenzie, "you know I am big enough to thrash you. If it's money you want, I'll give you half a crown." The robber would not accept this very charitable offer. Mr. Mackenzie "doffed" his coat and gave him what the man is now pleased to call "a dashed good hiding." That thrashing did the man a great service, for he afterward left the paths of vice and became one of Mr. Mackenzie's many converts.

An Old Soldier's Recommendation.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. BENDING, Halsey, Oregon. For sale by all dealers.

Many specimens of worms and the larvæ of insects are not provided with eyes. Their habitation being in the earth, eyes to them would be useless.

KIDNEY.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney trouble for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. My sleep was disturbed and I became very thin and nervous. No appetite; bowels constipated. I have taken two bottles and gained fifteen pounds. Sleep well. Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

King Alphonso's Tact.

Alphonso king of Aragon, was one day examining the different articles in his jeweler's shop in company with many ladies of his court. He had scarcely left the house when the jeweler missed a diamond of great value and ran after him, complaining of the theft. The king, not willing publicly to disgrace any of his attendants, commanded a large basin full of sand to be brought him, into which he directed each person to put in the hand clinched and to draw it out flat. By this means the diamond was left in the sand, unknown by whom.—Household Words.

An old man and his wife were last summer sailing on a steamer between Blackpool and the isle of Man. As the sea was rather rough and the old woman unaccustomed to sailing she said to her husband:

"Oh, John, this ship is going down."

San Salvador.

San Salvador is built on a volcano. It has been three times destroyed by an earthquake, but the people are becoming accustomed to such occurrences. Earthquakes are pretty frequent, and while one is naturally very nervous there is really little danger to life. The shocks have been known to come as frequently as 80 times in an hour.
